Mary Ships Lost-Cynthia Goes Down with All Hands.

(By Associated Press.)

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 18.-Severe weather is still reported from several parts of the coast. The heavy storms have seriously interfered with the telegraph wires, preventing full reports of the disasters from reaching shipping circles.

A despatch from St. Ives, Cornwall says that three vessels are ashore in Carbis Bay. The Cynthia, of Liverpool, has foundered with all hands. Vulture, of Cardiff, has been wrecked, but her crew was saved. The sea off St. Ives is reported to be running terribly high, and several small craft have been lost.

The storm struck Liverpool to-day doing much minor damage. A gable and a house were blown down, burying two boys in the ruins. The lads are reported to be seriously injured.

Several weeks ago the first of these complaints came in cable reports to the Italian Consul in this city, and they were renewed with such frequency that Consul-General Riva placed the matter before United States Commissioner Shields. The latter turned the matter over to the Secret Service office about three weeks ago, and the officers in the bureau are still investigating.

A cablegram from Rome yesterday tells of the arrest in Andretto, Province of Aveilino, of two peasants who recently of freuring forged Italian banknotes. They explained that they obtained the notes in an exchange office on James street. The only Italian banking-house in James street is the Banca Cosentina, conducted by G. Coppola & Figli, at No. 50. After considerable difficulty the attaches of this place managed to convey to the reporter that they never had any Italian money returned to them as "no good."

The city is and has been willing to issue the bonds to liquidate the indebtedness, but difficulties arose over claims and counter claims of various counties for the care of insane immigrants, which delayed the payment.

That part of Ward's Island deeded to the city was formerly used by the State Emigration Commissioners as an immigrant station, and the claims of the counties are for the care of patients sent to them from there.

The matter is in a fair way of being settled satisfactorily to all concerned. Mr. Campbell will be here again on Wednesday, when it is expected an agreement will be reached and the State will get its money.

The city has a year in which to pay, but will not take advantage of the time.
